

What a Visitor to the Chicago Fair Is Likely to See.

Warren K. Moorehead, who has been at work for some time making explorations in Ohio for the archaeological department of the World's Fair at Chicago, has just made a rich strike at Fort Ancient, Ohio. Thursday several deep vaults were uncovered. One of these vaults was a stone chamber, in which were 24 skeletons in various postures. They were in an excellent state of preservation, and Moorehead had them photographed just as they lay. A number of the skeletons were placed in vaults of flat stone, and seemed to have been tightly sealed. The skeletons and the vaults will be taken intact to the World's Fair at Chicago, where with the vaults, they will be set in position precisely as found. Curious ornament, jewelry, etc., were also found in the vaults. The skeletons are believed to be those Ohio mound builders. An arrow was found sticking in one of the skulls.

COAST NEWS.

It is rumored at Butte, Mont., that the Anaconda mines have been sold to the Rothschilds of Europe.

Fred Smith, a laborer near Dogtown Calaveras county, was found dead in his cabin early Monday morning with a bullet in his body.

A ten-acre orange orchard, without any building upon it, has just been sold at Riverside for $2,500 per acre, the highest point yet reached in that market.

It is reported that a prominent man living about twelve miles west of Eugene, Or., is afflicted with a well-developed case of glanders, contracted while handling diseased horses.

In the celebrated Millionaire Davis will case at Butte, Mont., the arguments upon the motion for a change of venue are concluded, and the Judge will render his decision on Saturday next.

Tuesday Florencio Garcia, Constable of Albuquerque, N. M., was arrested for setting fire to and completely destroying three cottages at Whitcomb, a summer camp about twelve miles from Albuquerque, in the Dias Mountains.

City Marshal Robinson of Walla Walla has ordered all the gambling saloons to be closed, and Mayor Blalock has issued a proclamation that saloons can no longer keep open on Sundays. This is the result of the recent tragedy at that town.

Emil F. Bernhard, who struck with an inkstand a fellow attorney, W. H. Carleton, during the course of an argument in a Justice's Court as Fresno on April 11th, has been held to answer with bail fixed at $1,000. Carleton was felled at the blow.

The Torpedo.

Washington, April 28.—The report of the sinking of the Blanco Encalada, one of the vessels taken by the rebels upon the breaking out of the insurrection in Chili, by a torpedo fired from the gunboat Almirante Lynch, has been read with the liveliest interest by naval officers and specialists in naval warfare in this city. The special application which is made of the incident is to our comparatively defenseless sea coast, and is particularly timely, as the United States is about to embark in the manufacture of an approved type of torpedo, which, it is confidently believed, will develop into an important auxiliary, both in naval attack and defence. Commodore R. B. Bradford, U. S. N. is probably the most accomplished expert on torpedoes and torpedo warfare in the United States, and he pronounces the destruction of the Encalada by a torpedo in Caldera Bay an event of the highest significance in the annals of naval warfare. The Encalada was the best vessel in the Chilean navy, and had done great service. She was about the size of the Boston or Atlanta of our navy.

The new vagrancy law is about the most searching statute ever compiled; newspapers men just barely escape.
